FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE ACTION ALERT

FEDERAL RESERVE "One Disaster After Another"

December 22, 2015 – Egon von Greyerz, the founder of Matterhorn Asset Management, has reported that we will soon see "one disaster after another".

Greyerz predicts, "I think we will have one disaster after another, first in the junk bond market, then in emerging markets and, after that, the subprime markets. Subprime car loans and student loans I see as another massive problem area. It is going to be one thing after another that will unravel. Since 2008, when the world almost went under, we have printed or increased credit by 50% or by $70 trillion, and the world economy is still struggling to survive. I think the real change in confidence will come down when markets come down. . . . I think things will come down very quickly."

US Home-Ownership Rate

The financial crisis is authored by the Fed. The easy-money policies of the Fed during Alan Greenspan's tenure have been suggested by some to be a leading cause of the subprime mortgage crisis, which occurred within months of his departure from the Fed.

Ben Bernanke continued the corruption in the Fed. He wrote about his time as chairman of the Federal Reserve in his 2015 book, The Courage to Act, in which he revealed that he was in charge when the U.S. economy collapsed in 2007 and 2008. Bernanke asserted that it was he that manipulated the efforts of the Fed (cooperating with other agencies and agencies of foreign governments) to guide an economic catastrophe greater than the Great Depression.
