WHILE YOU WERE SLEEPING:

— John McCain questioned Ted Cruz's eligibility to be president. The Arizona senator, who has long clashed with Cruz in the Senate, said in an Arizona TV interview that "it's worth looking into" whether Cruz is a natural born citizen, a requirement to be president. When asked how Cruz could run for president if he was born in Canada, McCain answered, "I do not know the answer to that." McCain was born in the Panama Canal Zone in 1936, and the Senate unanimously passed a resolution declaring him a natural born citizen when he ran for president in 2008, Katie Zezima notes. "McCain said Wednesday the issue is different because the Canal Zone was a territory and U.S. Military base and there was precedent set when Barry Goldwater, who was born in Arizona when it was a territory, ran for president. 'That's different than being born on foreign soil,' he said. 'I think there is a question,' he said of Cruz. 'I am not a constitutional scholar on that but I think it's worth looking into. I don't think it's illegitimate to look into it.'" This is happens when your Senate colleagues, especially the Republicans, hate you.

There was a spate of anti-Cruz birtherism across the Republican spectrum yesterday:

Ann Coulter said it is “absolutely false” that Cruz is a natural-born citizen. Rand Paul brought up the issue at an event, noting that Cruz is eligible to be prime minister of Canada. Trump called on Cruz to go to court and ask for a declaratory judgment to clear up the matter.

Ted Cruz holds a media availability at the Clay County Event Center in Spencer, Iowa. (Reuters/Mark Kauzlarich) Cruz defended his eligibility in Iowa. Speaking to reporters before an event in Rock Rapids yesterday, Cruz said that his birth in Canada to a Cuban father and American mother did not change the fact that he was a natural born citizen. “It’s settled law,” Cruz said. “The child of a U.S. citizen, born abroad, is a U.S. citizen.

People will continue to make hay of it as a political matter, but as a legal matter it’s quite straightforward. It’s occurred many times in history.” He even invoked McCain. (David Weigel)

A Hint of New Life to a McCain Birth Issue (NYT 7/11/08) By ADAM LIPTAK In the most detailed examination yet of Senator John McCain's eligibility to be president, a law professor at the University of Arizona has concluded that neither Mr. McCain's birth in 1936 in the Panama Canal Zone nor the fact that his parents were American citizens is enough to satisfy the constitutional requirement that the president must be a "natural-born citizen."

Wikileaks show that John Podesta (Chairman of the 2016 Hillary Clinton presidential campaign. Podesta previously served as Chief of Staff to President Bill Clinton and Counselor to President Barack Obama) kept a fearful eye on the Ted Cruz eligibility issue for Hillary and Soetoro (BHO). He also researched the John McCain eligibility issue.

The American Resistance Party declare that these emails above prove that the entire Hillary Clinton Campaign Headquarters and all individuals associated with Hillary “the Queen of Birthers” became “birthers” because of their interest in the Cruz and McCain constitutional “birther” eligibility. The 2008 & 2016 Hillary for President Campaigns started the first illegal-alien-Barry-Soetoro (aka BHO) birther movement.
